Overview

Homeschooled high school senior students entering the 2012 Science Fair Convention at the Akron Fossils & Science Center who win a 1st, 2nd, or 3rd place in their category, are additionally eligible for a $500 cash prize. One $500 cash prize will be awarded. The monies have been graciously donated by the Cooper family in loving memory of their homeschooled daughter, Alicia Cooper. The monies are to be applied to higher education costs and will be sent to the school of choice after confirmation of acceptance has been provided.

Essay

A 500-word essay on "My Strategies for Being a Christian Witness to Creation in the Higher Education Classroom" must be included with this application.

Submitting this Form

Each applicant must sign in the appropriate box stating that they are eligible for the cash prize competition. This form, and the essay, must accompany their science fair entry (see the Akron Fossils & Science Centers website akronfossils.com/sciencefair for an entry form and instructions).
